THE 1955 BETHANIAN

Presented by
THE SENIOR CLASS

Bethany College
Bethany, West Virginia

RICHARD AHLES
Editor

NICK LINN
Business Manager

FOREWORD

There is a great deal that goes into the preparation of a yearbook. It is difficult to explain the worry, anxiety and even the pleasure that a yearbook staff receives for its efforts. The 1955 Bethanian has had its full share of anxiety and pleasure, with the former outweighing the latter during the many months of work that went into the book you are now reading.

The staff of the 1955 Bethanian, after the long months of toil hopes to achieve the pleasure of producing a yearbook that each student, faculty member and friend of Bethany College will cherish long after we have left the college.

DEDICATION...

DR. FORREST H. KIRKPATRICK

Adjunct Professor of Personnel Management

It has been difficult for members of the Senior Class to refer to Dr. Kirkpatrick without using the term "Dean" before his name. Although he hasn't served as Dean of Students since our freshman year, he will always be "Dean" Kirkpatrick to the Class of 1955. He will also always be known as a great friend and counsellor to the Class of 1955. It is with deep pleasure and personal respect that the Senior Class dedicates this 1955 Bethanian to "Dean" Kirkpatrick.

IN MEMORIAM

DR. CHARLES BROWN

Professor of Chemistry

SHIRLEY MORRIS

GEORGE RUSSELL

FACULTY...

... The President

DR. PERRY EPLER GRESHAM

Second year men in baseball have often been known to go through the torments of what is known as a "Sophomore Slump." While there are no existing records to prove it, we can assume that college presidents have also been known to have had trouble during their sophomore year. This, however, has not been the case with our twelfth president. He has passed through the important sophomore year showing that the promise he displayed as a "rookie" was real and lasting.

Pendleton Heights, home of Dr. and Mrs. Gresham.

BERNAL WEIMER

Dean of the Faculty

Dr. Weimer has given long and faithful service to Bethany College, and the years have brought to him great admiration and appreciation from Bethanians.

. . . The Deans

Dean of Students

Dean McAllister has exhibited good judgment in his first year as Dean of Students and has won the respect of the student body.

LESTER McALLISTER

Dean of Women

In a comparatively short time, Mrs. Webster has become a trusted friend as well as Dean to the women students of Bethany.

The Library . . .

Bethanians can look with pride upon their library, which, due to the fine work of an outstanding librarian, is one of the best small college libraries in the United States. This year's senior class is greatly indebted to Mr. Behymer and Mrs. Woolery for having aided so much the pursuit of knowledge undertaken by the class during the past four years. We hope sincerely that their dream of a new and better building is soon realized.

In the Classroom . . .

Bethany College, "primarily an educational institution," varies its instruction with field trips, slides, and movies. A major part of the work is still done in the classroom, but the classroom can be anything from the state legislature to a steel mill.

Members of the American History class take a trip out of the classroom to visit the state capital.

Mr. Hettler shows a film strip to his German class.

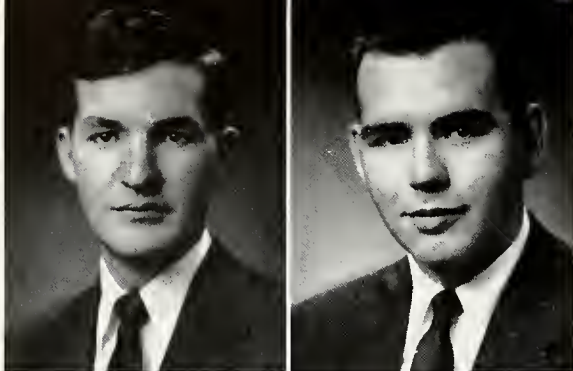

The English seminar class meets with Miss McGuffie.

The "pace-setters" of '56 only have one year remaining in the West Virginia hills and will undoubtedly raise just as big a sensation in their senior year as their name implies.

With the exception of being the most difficult class in the college to photograph, since so many showed up for the picture, the "Magnanimous Class of 1957" became an integral part of Bethany in this, their second year. We can't think of anything the group did as a unit, except pose for the picture above, but everyone seemed to like them.

Freshmen . . .

Our bit of "Young America", has been an invigorating and "blazing" addition to the college and Volunteer Fire Department. However, everything improves with age, and we have high hopes for their potential contribution to Bethany.

As the governing council of the five national fraternities, the position of the Inter-Fraternity Council is one of great importance to the campus. This year the group did an excellent job administratively, the main policy being the decision regarding point averages of prospective "social privileges". It was socially, however, that the organization really outdid itself. The almost-annual Inter-Fraternity Ball not only was held this year, but also was considered by many to have been the best college function of the year. Due to the tireless efforts of John Palafoutas and others, the organization was able to sponsor this excellent dance with Ralph Marteri and his orchestra.

Members of the Inter-Fraternity Council and their dates listen to a little "Caravan".

Pan-Hellenic Council

The Pan-Hellenic Council is composed of the president and rush chairman of each sorority. This year, under the direction of Mary Hildebrand and advised by Mrs. Webster, the council developed a new program whereby the pledges of each sorority worked together in a "Help Week". Another important job this group has is to plan and decide rushing policies.

Alpha Sigma Phi

DAVE MOORE
President

In what many consider the most beautiful house on campus, the members of Alpha Sigma Phi have a well-organized, closely knit group. Under Dave Moore's administration, the chapter had a number of informal parties, an excellent open house, and the annual Christmas formal.

Beta Theta Pi

Nearing the century mark on Bethany's campus, Psi of Beta Theta Pi continued its pursuit of high intellectual, social and organizational standards. The loss of the scholarship cup for the first time in many years was the only unfortunate incident in an otherwise outstanding year for the Betas.

Kappa Alpha

Kappa Alpha distinguished itself in many ways this year, with the most notable achievement being the acquisition of the scholarship cup at the end of the second semester. With remodeling completed on the house, the KA's impressed the campus with its open house early in the year. The usual annual events, the Convivium Banquet in honor of Founder Robert E. Lee, the Dixie Ball and a costume dance were all quite successful.

Phi Kappa Tau

JOHN PALAFOUTAS
President

The Phi Taus, as usual, were extremely well represented in athletics, particularly on the gridiron, but also in every other sport. Bob Boyer captained the football team, and had many other members of the chapter in the starting lineup with him. In the intramural leagues, the Phi Tau teams were also very successful. Paul Nielsen was elected to the presidency of the Student Board of Governors, bringing more honor to the chapter.

Socially, the highlights were the Founder's Day dance at the Pine Room of Oglebay Park and the Novelty Dance in the Spring.

Sigma Nu

Two recent Sigma Nu activities became definite traditions this year, the Christmas party for the children in town, and the Father's weekend. The chapter also had a number of Saturday night "sweater dances" and other informal parties, utilizing the house as a recreation center more extensively than had been previously done. Other activities included the famous "Bowery Brawl", and the Spring Formal. Chuck Zilich was Commander, and was succeeded by Skip Bushon.

Alpha Xi Delta

Delta of Alpha Xi Delta, under the leadership of Mary Jane Gast, who now compares with F.D.R. insofar as length of service is regarded, had a year of many triumphs. The proudest single event was the acquisition of the scholarship cup during the first semester, followed by the tragedy of its subsequent loss the following semester. An excellent pledge class, with Carol Kimball as president, did much to make 1955 an outstanding year for the Alpha Xi's.

Independent Women

This group was unusually active this year, taking a very definite interest in many campus events, and, with the Independent Men, sponsored an excellent dance on the Saturday after St. Patrick's Day. Shirley Apgar served as the organization's president, and also represented them on the Student Board of Governors.

The Independent Men took a much more active part in campus life this year under Tom Buerghenthal's leadership. With the Independent Women, they sponsored a dance, and were also active in various athletic programs in the intramural leagues. For the first time, a constitution, or at least the beginnings of one was attempted.

Student Board of Governors

By far the most important campus organization, the Student Board of Governors strives to be representative of each Bethanian, and has had much success in pursuit of that goal. During this school year, the Board proved in many instances its jealous guarding of its position as an independent spokesman for the student body. The Board's polite expulsion of Dean McAllister from a meeting early this year was at least the colorful highlight of the year's activities.

Social Committee

The organization which does a great deal of work with little credit is the Social Committee. It is the duty of its members to plan and execute the weekly dances, parties and the like, which go under the heading of "all-college events". Each year the committee is criticized for various programs, and this is most unfortunate since anyone who has served with the group will realize the difficulty of planning a good program on a very limited budget. Hank Prehodka served as chairman of the group, with Sylvia Kundig as secretary.

Student Board of Publications

This group, composed of editors, past editors and business managers of various campus publications, plus SBOG representatives, is responsible for selecting students for major editorial positions on the Bethanian, Handbook and Tower.

The Tower

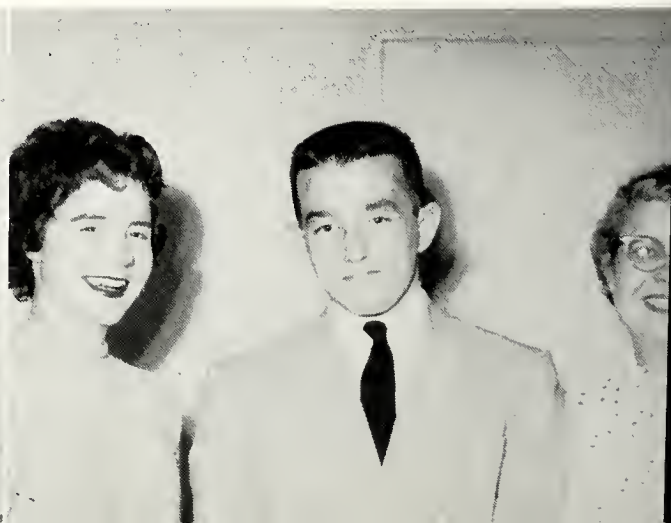

Bethany's "voice", the Tower, is a four-page, six-column newspaper, published every Friday of the school year—exam weeks excepted. In addition to an expanded circulation, the Tower began this year with expanded office facilities, moving from Old Main to a suite of rooms in Barracks Four.

From here, production was carried on under the direction of Editor Pat Close, ably assisted by News Editors Ann Cochran and Deane Howard, Features Editor Beckie Oldham, Sports Editor Kirk Avery, Business Manager Robert Hettler, and Circulation Manager Helen Hay.

The Bethanian

The production of the 1955 Bethanian was composed of equal parts of hard work, luck and chaos. Very few members of the staff really enjoyed the work, and it is to their credit that they carried out the drab but necessary details that go into the making of a yearbook. It is not very amusing to pound miles of pavement in search for ads, or to type hundreds of letters, and these efforts gain no prestige or reward, except the sincere gratitude of the editor and business manager. The 1955 Bethanian is deeply indebted to these people, and especially indebted to Sylvia Kundig, the Assistant Editor who bore an enormous amount of the work and to Business Manager Nick Linn, who did the work of ten editors.

Our impressive Male Chorus, Bethany's best P.R. medium, gained recognition and applause from the Ohio Valley television fans in several appearances before their successful tour of the Eastern churches and high schools.

The college has probably made more friends through the efforts of these men than through any other means. Bethany is indeed proud and fortunate to sponsor this group.

Messiah Choir

The annual Christmas-time performance of the Messiah Choir has become a greatly appreciated and enthusiastically awaited Bethany tradition in a rather short time. Extremely deserved praise has been heaped upon this group and its fine director, Mr. Hauptfuehrer, by everyone who has heard them.

Concert Choir

This choral group may be loosely termed a year-'round Messiah Choir, since it is composed of many members of the Messiah Choir. Under Mr. La Pella's direction, the Choir made a number of appearances in towns in the vicinity along with concerts at the college.

Chess Team

The Chess Team, organized by Dennis Kuby, a well-known valet and dog-fancier, excited the campus with its victories over such famous institutions as Penn State, an unusual event for any Bethany team. Captained by the aforementioned Kuby, the team stalwarts were Herb Stein and Ira Marks. Bob, the hairiest member pictured above, has recently been dropped from the squad after being beaten by Dennis in two out of three matches.

The Band

The band's most memorable achievement this year was its rendition of the new "Bethany Fight Song" which replaced the high school style imitation of "On, Wisconsin". Written by Director of Admissions Gerry Guild, the song was introduced by the band at a Fall pep rally, and played each time Bethany scored a touchdown. It is hoped that in the future, it will be played more often. Indoor activities included a winter and spring concert, and, according to the college calendar, weekly rehearsals. Mr. Gatozzi, in two years, has proven to be a very able and extremely popular director.

Chemistry Club

With Mary Jane Gast as president, the Chemistry Club had an interesting and stimulating year. Many speakers attended the regular meetings, and the banquet, as usual, was a roaring success.

Beta Beta Beta

In order to be a member of Tri-Beta, a student must maintain a "B" average in biology, and as members, present papers on biology and related fields. Under Carl Groppe, the group had a regional meeting of the national organization, and enjoyed the honor of having Dr. Weimer, a national officer as its faculty advisor.

Student Church Board

The Student Church Board is the governing body of the larger Student Christian Association. It is the function of the group to plan the various programs of the parent organization, and formulate the activities of such outstanding events as the yearly Lenten devotions. Doug Richmond served as the group's president.

Ministerial Association

Dr. Ice proudly calls the Ministerial Association "the largest professional group on campus", and the fact that the Association is the only professional group on campus, does not take anything from its prestige. Its outstanding annual event is the banquet honoring its seniors, and its main purpose is to provide its members with fellowship.

Women's Athletic Board

The board of directors of the Women's Athletic Association is responsible for the planning and execution of all sports activities for the women students. An elected body, the group schedules games, appoints officials, and takes care of all the many details that go into the fine women's athletic program. At the end of the year, the board selects the women students who have earned athletic awards, and these awards are presented at a banquet in the Spring.

Literary Harbinger

The main purpose of the Economics Club is to get people from industry to speak on topics which interest the group and are related to the field of economics. These programs are planned by the executive committee which was led this year by "Mac" Macolino. Dr. Kyler and Mr. Conklin are the faculty advisors.

The group has heard speakers from the Social Security Office and the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company. These meetings are always well attended by students who are interested in some segment of economics and also by those who have no idea what economics is.

The biggest event of the year is the annual formal banquet which is held at the end of March. The banquet is unique in that it is strictly formal. The speaker this year was Representative Robert Mollahan who was well received by the group.

Academy of Science

The West Virginia

The West Virginia Academy of Science is a state-wide scientific group with a relatively new Bethany chapter. Its members engage in scientific study and give papers on campus and at state conventions.

This is the first year in which the college employees in the Bethany House, Phillips Hall and the Library have been included in the Bethanian. The reason for doing this is obvious, since these students are much more active than members of most of the clubs pictured in this section. The Phillips Hall staff is naturally co-educational, and has caused a great deal of general comment for being a closely-knit, friendly group. Les Sechler is the man in charge.

Under head waiter Nick Linn, the Bethany House staff has functioned efficiently and with ease. Due to Bethany House custom, everyone sits in the same place for each meal, and therefore each table becomes accustomed to the same waiter. With the exception of occasional suspensions for sleeping through breakfast, the staff remains the same at every table for each meal.

The Bison's 1954 grid season will hardly go into the books as a success from the won and lost standpoint, but all seven games were "hard fought" contests, and the two and five record was not considered too horrible when the rebuilding necessity is considered. Coach John Knight, who handled football for the second consecutive year after an eight year lay off, was greeted by thirty-five candidates for the opening practice session on September 9. Although the backfield was intact from the preceding season, with John Palafoutas at quarterback; Archie Pollock at right half; Bob Boyer at left half, and Fuzzy Karr at full, a major rebuilding job was necessary for the line.

Spenski gets stopped.

The Bethany squad made its record appear more impressive by scoring a total of 113 points for the season against the combined opponent score of 122. Only four men will be missing from the squad next year, and all four are backs; Boyer, Orlando, Palafoutas and Pollock.

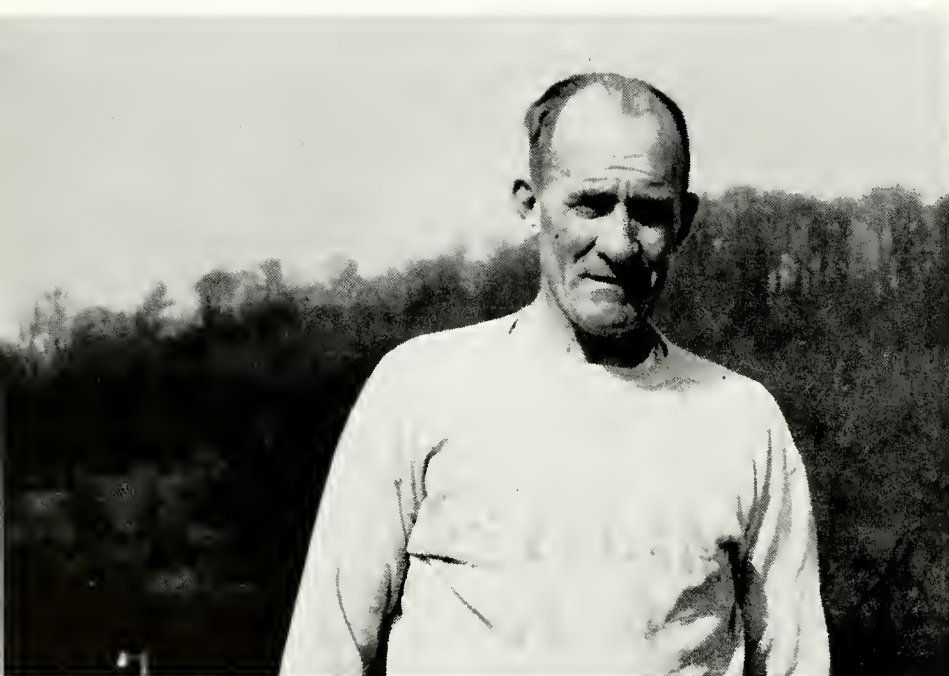

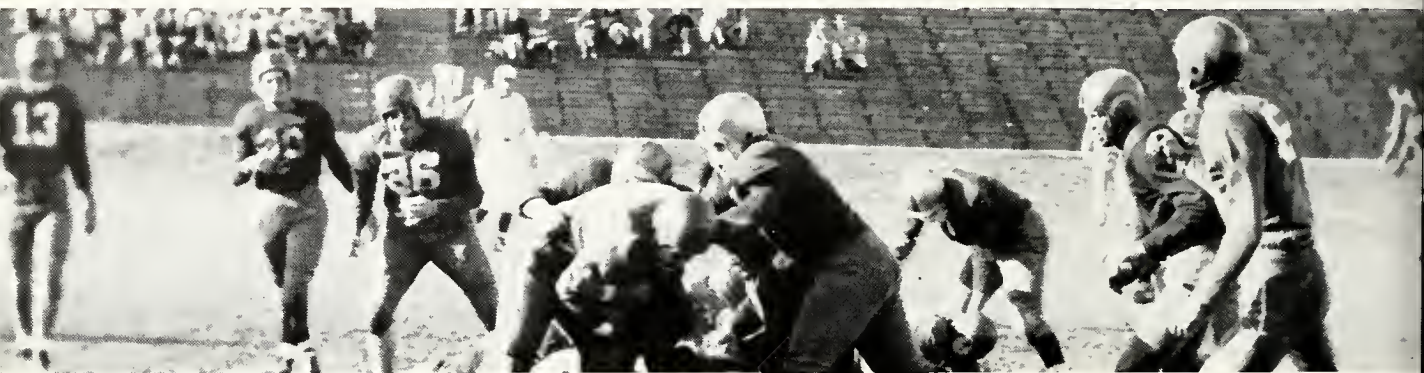

Freshman center Ron Whitt and tackle Lee Irvine, combined with returning lettermen Clyde George, Jack Mox, Harry Caldwell, Gerry Frederickson and Ken Richardson gave Bethany a hard-fighting, improving line. Toward the end of the season four of the starting linemen were freshmen, while the other three were juniors, a situation which may make for a hopeful future.

Next season, several good replacements will be available. Sophomore Dick Lash, who has been out for two seasons with broken shoulder bones, hopes to be more fortunate next season. Freshman Augie Losso is expected to enter the quarterback slot, while the aggressive and spirited Fuzzy Karr will continue to be the fine full-back he has been for the past two years. The line will find all veterans, including Gerry Frederickson, who achieved All-District honors, and freshman aspirants will find it difficult to unseat any of them.

Irvine, George and LeVine make "52" wish he'd been born a beautiful woman.

Basketball

Despite the high pre-season hopes based on the fine showing of freshmen Rudy Yaksich, John Roytos, and Augie Losso, the Bisons suffered through an unsuccessful basketball season, winning but five of twenty-three contests and rarely performing to their fullest potential.

Senior lettermen John Palafoutas and Bob Hettler teamed with sophomore Ed Johnson and the talented freshman trio to form what appeared to be a smooth working combination, with Dick Lash serving as a capable replacement.

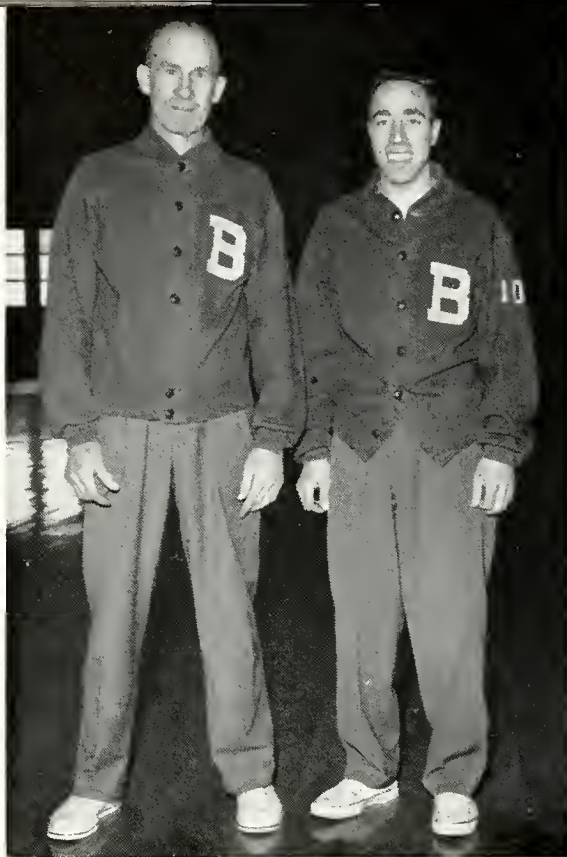

Despite a fine showing against Alderson-Broaddus and flashes of fine teamwork in their early contests the Green dropped six in a row before finally breaking into the win column against Fairmont. Three nights later the Bisons played what was undoubtedly their best ball of the year in upsetting Ohio Northern, unbeaten in seven starts, by a 71 to 69 count. A win over Grove City kept hopes temporarily high but the four straight setbacks that followed chilled even the staunchest fans. Bethany managed only two more victories in their eight remaining regular games, easing by Thiel and walloping hapless Shepherd, 103 to 83, before the home fans. Despite Rudy Yaksich's fine individual performance the Green bowed out in the first round of the state tourney, losing by an eight point margin to Potomac State.

Bob Hettler wound up his college career by leading the individual scoring parade with 334 points, trailed by Johnson (301), and Yaksich (290). Roytos, Losso, and Palafoutas rounded out the regulars in that order.

A one word description of the season would have to be disappointing. The Bisons played some very capable halves, but rarely were they able to combine two in one game.

Baseball

At this writing, it is impossible to guess the outcome of the baseball season, but the team looks good with impressive showing in practice. Dick Kiefer has proven to be a home run hitter, and Fuzzy Carr, the catcher-third baseman looks as if he will finish the season with a very high average. A new backstop added a bit of class to the general appearance of the field and is greatly appreciated by the team and fans.

Veterans Haupt, Kiefer, Carr, Mulligan, Homer and Lash are expected to help a lot this season, aided by newcomer Losso and a few other rookies. Luke Johnson appears to be the number one pitcher, with much expected from Blakeley.

Track

The track season was not underway as this book went to press, and it is therefore impossible to give a resume of the season. Coach Hill had a number of veterans out at the beginning of the season, Chin, Boyer, Downes, Baker, Nuebert, Linn, McKee and others were expected to help make a successful season for the Bisons. Freshmen like Fields, Rehm and Zinter were also expected to help greatly.

With four letter men holding over from the 1954 squad and two fast developing freshman additions, the 1955 tennis team promises to be the strongest ever to represent Bethany in this intercollegiate sport.

After dropping the opener to Ohio Northern University 4-3, the Bisons posted a record tying seven straight victories over Bluffton, Salem, Hiram, W&J, California, Fairmont and O.N.U. (return match). Five matches remain to complete the schedule including two with West Virginia University and return contests with Fairmont, California and W. & J., and if the team maintains its present form, a new winning record appears certain.

Veteran Bruce Robeson has scored eight consecutive victories in the No. 1 spot and has received strong support from Robert Syme, James Breen, Stephen Serman and the two Freshmen, James Davis and Bruce Bear.

Intramurals

Fraternity rivalry at Bethany finds its way to the playing fields, where the rivals can utilize excess energy while attempting to attain athletic supremacy for the chapter. This season the Sigs won the football championship in a strong, if unorthodox league. In basketball, Beta Theta Pi finished in first place in a very tight race, with a surprising KA team as the "spoiler" in many instances. Another strong team was the Oglebay Aggies who, despite age and fast living managed to remain a contender during most of the season. At this writing, the softball season has not yet begun, and in the wild and woolly intramural leagues, it is impossible to hazard a prediction regarding the ultimate winner.

Cheerleaders

The cheerleaders deserve so much credit that any words of praise seem insufficient. Their wonderful ability and continued enthusiasm has been taken for granted for so long that few realize how much they do for our teams. It's rather difficult to cheer for two hours or more on a cold afternoon, yet these girls do it every week in the Fall, and often in front of a listless crowd. Jane Charlton worked very hard as captain and deserves the appreciation of the college for the fine results she achieved with her her squad.

Big Bull Bates

What's been said for the Cheerleaders can be repeated for the Ancient and Honorable Moos. A unique organization, the Moos are the antithesis of any other collegiate group of male cheerleaders. They are not merely cheerleaders, but also showmen extraordinary, and satirists of no mean ability. Their tendency to mimic the cheerleaders, bands and fans of opponents have outraged those without much sense of humor and amused the more intelligent. Big Bull Bates led the pack, and deserves a great deal of applause for the antics of his boys.

CAMPUS LIFE

Clew

Ask any Bethanian to name the finest religious experience he's had in college, and the answer will invariably be CLEW. Each year, the college plays host to a representative of each of the major American religions, and the results of the three days' experience are gratifying to every student.

Christmas at Bethany

There is something about Christmas that's almost beyond description. Some may think it's the excitement of going home, others may say it's merely the age-old Christmas spirit that comes over everyone everywhere. Bethanians who have spent two or more years at the college, however, realize that there is really something special about the few weeks before Christmas Vacation here that would be hard to duplicate anywhere else. At Christmas, we become the family that we try to be during the rest of the year. Faculty and students take on a consideration for each other that can't be realized by an outsider. The night before vacation, of course, is the best of all nights in the school year. While we have pictured the events of that night on this page, it is impossible to recreate the feeling that encompasses the participants. We hope that we have achieved through words what is difficult, in this instance to do in pictures.

Congratulations to you, the men and women of the class of 1955. Churches and church schools everywhere are awaiting graduates of this year's class. There are many places of leadership which you can fill . . . many opportunities for you to serve, whether you choose to teach or to preach. Your religious education and your fresh young ideas are in great demand.

As you begin work, we hope you will turn to your cooperating non-profit publishing house, the Christian Board of Publication, for the newest and best in church school lesson materials and educational aids which meet the specific needs of the Christian churches.

"THREE LITTLE WORDS"

A prominent businessman summed up his success in three words
... "AND THEN SOME"

He went on: "I discovered at an early age that most of the difference between average people and top people could be explained in three words. The top people did what was expected of them—and then some. They were thoughtful of others; they were considerate and kind—and then some. They met all their obligations and responsibilities fairly and squarely—and then some. They were good to their friends—and then some. They could be counted on in an emergency—and then some."

WHAT IS A BANKER?

To the people of his community a Banker says,

"I am worthy of your confidence. If you will deposit your money and savings with me, I will guarantee their safety and will repay them to you whenever you ask.

"Your deposits will create credit which, through me, may be used by worthy borrowers for personal and business purposes.

"In this way the business of the community will be able to grow and the people of the community to prosper."

Quite a man . . . a Banker!

Have you thought of making Banking your career?
